

One day, John was running from a lion. The lion was gaining on him, but John was determined to make it to safety. He could see the finish line in sight, but the lion was right behind him. John put on a final burst of speed and narrowly escaped the lion's jaws. He was exhausted, but he had saved his life.

John was a hero to the other antelope. He had shown them that he was the fastest and strongest of them all. They would all follow him from now on, safe in the knowledge that he would always lead them to safety.